“ Sorry to say that I don't have any pictures but I do have happy memories. My earliest memories of Mark were back in Sunday School at Saint Clemens. His size amazed me and I was glad he was on my side. lol. In middle school we used to fish on and off together in the local canals and water ways in Ft. Lauderdale. A few times I road my bike to his house and we played video games and picked on his sisters Corvette because it wasn't a Ford. I don't remember exactly why but one day in class at Lauderdale Lakes Middle School Mark picked me up, in my desk and chair, and was holding me over his head. The teach comes back in the class and tells me to stop picking on him. LOL We both had a good laugh. Later at Boyd Anderson High School when I really wanted to ride his motorcycle, that I couldn't even touch the ground while sitting on the seat, he held it up for me and gave me a push. I road it around the field, not far from his house, and had a blast. At the end, he caught me so I could climb back off. We lost contacted on and off during the years and honestly I hadn't heard from him till he found me on Facebook one day. I know how much he missed his mom when she pasted away.....I guess he finally went to see her. I will never forget my friend Mark. He was always a gentle giant to me and I think the only thing bigger then he was, was his heart. RIP my friend.
