“ Thanks to everyone who sent their thoughts and memories for our mother.
She was the last of those who grew up knowing the value of a dollar and hard work.

“ Dear Don and Paul,

I can't help but feel sorry for myself even though my heart is breaking for you two. There were a few people in this world that I felt that as long as I knew they were living, a part of my mother was living also. I'm afraid that your Mom was the last of those few women who meant so much to my Mama and with her gone, that wonderful era of women as we knew them is gone also. They had so much fun together and they laughed until tears would roll down their faces.

I know that as empty as our hearts are without them, they are enjoying once again the friendship and good times in a new world together. Mama is playing that "honkie tonk " piano and your Mom already has a trio going. There are so many childhood memories that your family was a part of and I am grateful our Moms created that bond for us.

I know that I have been away for a long time, but my heart, now a days, longs for those precious times when people were kind to one another and it was safe for us kids to roam the neighborhood.

Move over angels, a new star is taking control of the celestial chorus.
