“ I never met your dad but my husband, Richard Carver, has such fond memories! I've heard how your dad taught him to bass fish. I've also heard some tales from his teenage years when your dad and his dad, Tom Carver, teamed up against him! All for the side of justice! Richard was saddened when I told him about your dad. He will miss him. I pray for comfort for your family. Lynn Carver

“ Very sad news, end of an era, and my sympathy to all his family. Ben gave me my very 1st of many tickets when I was a young wild teenager, which I definitely deserved. I remember late one night when most of us hot rodders were gathered at Walhalla's "Linda's Drive-in" after closing time, he stopped by and spent a few minutes trying to talk some sense in to our empty heads about not speeding and drag racing. Another occasion after I purchased a 1963 Ford fastback with a 427 engine that had factory two 4 barrel carbs, he stopped by as we were looking at it's engine and ask what did I want all that junk on top of my engine for, which stupid me replied, "Ben, if you had that same junk on your car's engine, you might be able to catch more of us hot rodders." Everybody there cracked up in laughter and even Ben did a little. He was definitely one great ones, always professional, fair, honest, and one of many reasons to this day why I "Back The Blue".

“ A true Lawman.

A fair honest man that applied the Law to all. In the 60's and 70's I was considered an Outlaw to those in this community. Ben Jones and I crossed paths many, many times. He dealt with me fairly, impartially, and was a driving force in helping to change my direction.

It was an honor to have known Ben and I am blessed for the faith that he had in me. To his family, I pray for you and your loss. For those of us that knew Ben, his guidance and kindness will surely be missed.

“ It seems like "Ben Jones" has been a name I have always heard especially from my Dad. I had the honor of teaching three of his children, precious Mike being the first, while teaching at South Pine Street. I will admit I was always happier seeing him dropping off his children at school rather than seeing him in my rear view mirror. I can't say the same for my husband, though. After seeing the picture of Ben posted on the site, I had to chuckle because I had met Ben while working at A & P in Walhalla, and late one evening I was racing down passed WGOG radio station and my understanding was that Ben heard the call from an officer sitting there. Now, Pete's drive-in at the time in Seneca was probably 15 minutes away, but unbeknownst to me Ben recognized the vehicle description and met me as I blew past a stop sign just below my house. At 15, it was a scary sight to see the bubble-gum blue lights as we referred to them then. But thank the Lord, I was invited to sit in the car of none other than Ben Jones. He definitely was fair but as a Father figure and highly respected by my previous meeting him at A & P, he give me a good talking to that I have never forgot, and I'm 59 now. I've always said, if officers of any station and rank treated people with respect and dignity, even though they just experienced an infraction of the law, then there would probably be more good kids on the streets, that got their lives turned around because of the Godly character they exhibited. I will truly miss a "Great Man" that Ben was, but our loss, is truly "Heaven's Gain"! I am a better man today because of a few great men in my life; the top two being my dad and Ben Jones. May the Lord Bless and Keep Ben's family during their time of loss and grieving, and comfort them knowing that Ben left them a true legacy of Faith, Hope, and Godly living.

“ Mr. Jones would stop me as I would be driving up and down the highway (I would always have my car filled with young people from high school and he would stop me and give me a long speech about speeding. I respected him for it altho we would always say "He is going to stop us". Actually looking back he probably saved a lot of young lives back then. We were really not going very fast but we were young and did not have the experience of driving and he knew that. He issued my first drivers license at the young age of 14. He was a good man and a good highway patrolman. My thoughts and prayers are with the family. May God bless. Jerrie Bell Lusk
