“ My uncle Brent was such a good person. I would come up to their house crying and he would give me the best advice. He always kept things positive. One memory he told me he wouldn't forget between me and him is when I called him my best friend when I was younger. We were playing tag and I called him my best friend. He remembered it and said he wouldn't forget it. And another memory we shared is me catching my first fish with him. He enjoyed fishing a lot. Anytime he was able to or had the time to he would go fishing. I miss him so dearly. I cry because he's gone but I smile because I know he's probably catching all the fish of his dreams and looking down at me smiling saying summer I know you can do it. I loved him so much and he will always have a special place in my heart. It hurts like heck that he had to go this soon.
