“ When I first met Mr. Charles at Hopewell Baptist I quickly realized that he was the real deal of a great Christian man. Even though I was the Sunday school teacher, Mr. Charles and several other deceased saints from that class were the real life teachers by example. I enjoyed Mr. Charles' prayers as they came from his heart. What a privilege to have known him and his family. No finer people than these folks. We were all blessed to be his friend. I know he will be terribly missed and his memory will live on until that reunion time.
