“ Charles was one of the most Christ-like Christians I've ever met. I remember working for him many years ago and always admired his faith and morals. Over the years, I seen him out and about many times....and he was always smiling and friendly. And it wasn't fake. He was genuine and I'll miss him.

“ A truly honorable Christian man, Charles was a kind and loving father-in-law to me for many years. From the time I first met him, I felt a sense of inclusion in the family and cherished the time we had together. Many times he helped us pack and move to various cities, and how well I remember the sunny afternoons spent eating muscadines and spitting the seeds in his garden. He always wore a smile, and never did I encounter him that he didn't have a hand ready for a friendly handshake. It is with true sadness and heartache that I mark his passing, but take comfort in the knowledge that he's Home now. I feel privileged to have known him and look forward to the day that we meet again.
