“ While in college in Charleston, I visited Mike and Tina in Columbia. The engine in my car blew. Mike called his dad and he had Mike tow the car to Greenwood. When I could get there I helped, but Brother Muir worked on that engine until it ran again. He set the timing off on it so it backfired every other stroke. Mike and I got back to the house and he said, well it was the first Pontiac he had ever worked on. Then he fixed it and it ran great. He always helped people.
