“ I met Dottie and her husband Lloyd in 1972, after I became close friends with her daughter Cindy. Dottie was a human dynamo with amazing energy, always busy with some project or activity. She had the funniest sense of humor and always made me laugh. She was a wonderful cook. When Cindy and I were trying to lose weight (which we always were), she made us ranch dressing with buttermilk and the new Hidden Valley Ranch powder packet that had just come out. No mayo, no sour cream, and yet it was divine! Cindy and I got into some escapades over the years, but Dottie always took it in stride. She was there for us, strong and caring. I've experienced my own personal sorrows in recent years, and I regret that I failed to keep in touch like I should have. I know that Dottie is at peace now with Cindy and that brings a measure of peace to my own heart. Lloyd and Amy, you will always be special to Mom and me. We love you and are praying for you as you say goodbye to a unique woman who made a difference in so many lives, including our own.
