“ This was a very special lady. I started out being her caregiver to being best friends. I'll remember all the talks we had and her calling me and I calling her. The pictures we shared. I love the smile on her face when I walked into the room. She always said I was her Angel but I tell her I was tan Angel. I'm going to miss her so much. But thank you God she's not hurting any more. And I know when we see her again she'll have her arms wide open with a smile on her face.
