“ Henry sure walked to the beat of a different drummer, and that is what made him so special to most of us. He and Clarence taught together for a few years at Walhalla Middle, and during these retirement years enjoyed lunch together on many days. Henry was the one Clarence looked to to answer questions when he did not know the answer. Henry's friendship is treasured by both of us. Rest in Peace, Henry.

“ Henry and I became great friends when we worked together at Walhalla Jr. High School during the late 60's and early 70's. I moved to the district office but stayed in touch all these years. We would run into each other at the Walhalla Steak House on Sundays. I got my usual hug just a few weeks ago. Rest in peace my dear friend; you are missed.
