“ Ami and Carrie,

This photo looks just like your dad looked about 50 years ago when a group of guys found the girls and combined us into a team.

We have many memories of spending time with your parents in many activities. Ami, one great memory we have of you happened just before Christmas either when you were crawling or already walking, We stopped by to see your family only to be met by a Christmas tree fully decorated and away from you. They had put the tree in the playpen to keep you away from it!! A perfect solution because you never used the playpen anyway Carrie, you came along later and we never got to see you much. There are wonderful stories to be told about your mom and dad and the birth of that beautiful red haired girl. To know your dad was to love him. His quiet gentle ways made him the special one in our little group. Realizing there are only two of the fellows left is a rather sobering thought. To say we were shocked when we got the news on Tuesday night is an understatement. One never forgets good friends. We love your family and are sending our sympathy to all. Be sure the two of you remain close; that would please your family and friends. Looking forward to meeting this sweet friend when Our Lord takes us home.

*With love,
Louise & Clarence Towe*
