“ Sorry if this is weird, I had a dream last night about needing to help someone named this, it was urgent and stayed with me even after I awoke. I have never met Jay before and only showed up here after a name search. I'm really sorry for your loss, but I think he wants you to know that he's happy. I wont speak anymore about somebody I don't personally know. My condolences to his family. From what I could tell he seemed amazing...”
