“ i remember the first time that I met James Ed Turner. He had that famous smile of his and said something like what's up Bud. It was something I always looked forward towards: a meeting, a hunt, a back of the truck encounter. I usually left those meetings with a better day ahead of me thanks to Jim Ed.
I loved him to tell quick stories about his raising and the characters of his youth. example, a meeting Doc Bruce early in the morning to smoke before plowing their mules/horses. I suppose the plowing was one thing that motivated both of them to get off the farm. Jim Ed was one of the Seneca men that welcomed me into the community. Thanx Jim Ed.

“ Our family truly enjoyed getting to know Mister Jim and Miss Pat over the past few years thru the NSTRA organization. Without fail, Mister Jim would share at least one joke with all of us during the weekend field trial's at Tokeena Farms. We always found it funny and cute, as he kept a bottle of window cleaner and paper towels at each of the fields and would always say "I put that stuff there hoping someone will clean the windows". We would all laugh and sometimes we would even clean the windows. He also would NEVER share his age with us and would just laugh and tell us it was none of our business. We will miss Mister Jim!

We only had the opportunity to meet Miss Pat and what a beautiful woman (inside and out) she is. I know she will miss her soul mate and we pray she will find peace in the days to come. For the remainder of Jim's family we did not get to meet, we also pray each of you will find peace and will be able to hold on to the memories that have been made over the years.

Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you!

“ I meet Jim years ago. He brought me good dogs to train. At that time he was mainly a wild bird hunter, getting into nstra trials a little later. We became fast friends. In our younger years we both enjoyed a cold beer from time to time. Another client told me Jim was a high roller. I laughed and told him he was my friend and about as country as you could get. Jim enjoyed class dogs and class people. I think the 1st trial dog I trained for him was a Brittany bitch he called Crazy Daisy, boy did she has her quirks . She ended up winning a lot maybe even the regional championship. Jim was a giver, honest and truly good man. I am proud he was my friend. I went through health problems and ended up losing my hearing. Jim told me I was 1 tough son of gun, might have used another word lol. Later when health problems hit him, he just kept fighting and moving forward. A gentlemen to the core, friend to so many. I miss you, god speed my friend. One funny story and I am done. Jim was here checking on some of his dogs when another client showed up. This other guy was high up in state poltics. Jim and I believe Frank English were relaxing under the oak tree but could hear what was going on. Things did not go well for this other fellow and before long I sent him packing dogs and all.. It was not long and Jim walked over to me, looked me in the eye and asked. Do I owe you any money lol. Jim had no quit in him. I know he is in a better place now. I will celebrate his life
