“ i was friends with a girl named mackenzie and her father was close with mine and they used to goof off with fire crackers and threw them at each other while us kids watched at the frond porch. but the two dads threw there remaining firecrackers at us. it was so scary and fun at the same time.

“ Never will I forget the time, JR and I were racing his go-cart at Colonel Creek Landing , Lake Wateree SC. We had that cart going superfast, running a sort of oval in the parking lot (No cars around) He was making a turn down the lane and back up, when the steering wheel came off on his hands. Holding it up, He holler " I can't turn no more", sopanicking, he hits the curb and jumps it, don't know how he didn't flip, but he managed to escape with no injuries and only a bent steering rod, which we later fixed, along with the steering wheel! It was funny seeing him hold that steering wheel up and laughing at himself, eyes bigger than a saucer... by the way.... we ran about 50mph that day !
