“ My Granny had the strongest faith of any person I've ever met. Some of my fondest memories are of my sisters and cousins gathering around, singing to Henry as she played the organ and sang along. Papa letting us sneak out to catch lightning bugs while she was at the barn milking and had already told us to go inside when my baby brother was being born. Her writing out Bible questions for each of and making a game of it to see who finishes them first at the same time creating a lesson from His word. But most of all, her words of wisdom which always led back to His word to remind us to use it as a roadmap and where to always ask for directions. I can only pray that someday someone will be able to see an inkling of that in me. I have a brand new angel today. Until we meet again Granny, love you always
