“ I remember the first time I met Leslie at Mason House, she was so sweet and welcoming to this transplant newbie. She showed me around, she and her Mom Beth shared many meals with my husband, Howie and me. She would hit the exercise room religiously and rigorously. I was so inspired by her will, her strength and spirit. Leslie always had that beautiful smile, no matter how bad the pain or dim the prognosis. She was such a trooper and a fighter, a one in a million one woman wonder. She was as beautiful on the inside as she was on the outside. I remember the first day I put on a pair of jeans (we pretty much lived in sweats at Mason House), I was greeted by Leslie when I came into the dining room, "well just look at you, rocking those jeans!" That sense of humor and love of shoes, too. Things I think of when I think of Leslie. I have followed her on Facebook since our transplants, and never had an inkling of how really bad it was, she had a way of shielding her friends from her harsh realities. I knew she had so many challenges, but I never doubted for a moment that she would always be ok, because that was Leslie. She always had that smile and that eternal optimism and I will miss her so much. From the moment I met her and Beth, I felt a closeness and a love like family. Howie and I both loved her and will miss her. My heart goes out to her family and I will remember you all in my prayers. God bless you, Leslie, my sdwet transplant sister.

“ Many prayers to you all. Leslie was a friend to everyone she met. Such a kind soul who lived and loved with everything she had. I'm blessed to have had someone in my life as special as her. I knew her through middle school and high school and thanks to Facebook, our adult years. Even going through her struggles, she always would check in to say hi or check in my family if she seen there were problems. Thank you for sharing such a beautiful woman with all of us. She will never be forgotten in our home, and always lives on in my heart. Her beautiful soul will be missed by many. Thinking of you all, prayers to you all. God bless.

“ Beautiful girl inside and out! Leslie was always so positive and concerned about others, regardless of what she was going through. She was a true inspiration and will always remain so. The night of her passing I was watching T.V. and saw a commercial for a new PeeWee Herman movie and I heard Leslie's voice imitating him and I laughed, but then started to cry. Miss you sweet girl.

“ It seems like I've had very few "true" friends in this life. But, Leslie sure was a friend to me. She gave so much, while asking nothing in return. She was little, but a Fireball that was quick to put me in my place. We all knew this day would come. Still, it came too soon.
