“ I still remember night a friend brought me over to meet Big Mike and Tammy. It was the beginning of true friendship. He worked for me many times. Never forget him talking me down off the roof. I will always remember his words as he taught me how to get turned around up there and get foot on ladder. He was my hero
In his last days in hospital I got the pleasure of returning the favor. Out of all things he might need. He wanted me to scratch his eye. Bless his heart.

He will always be alive in all our hearts. He left us early to see his mom. He didn't want to leave "toots "(Tammy). But he is smiling down.
