“ I will always think of Priscilla as a mother figure in my child hood. I spent a lot of quality childhood time (1978-80) over at my best friend Warren's. Priscilla would get on both me & Warren as If I were her own son. She never held back disciplining me when I needed straightening out or loving me either. She was a good friend to my own mother. I will always remember her as a strong woman that God placed in my life when I needed it. Thanks Priscilla for sharing your strong motherly guidance with me. I will never forget you!

“ *My Dearest Friend Priscilla,
It seems like I've known you a lifetime. You've been an amazing friend, confidante, support when I needed it, a shoulder to cry on, and the sister I never had. You were the first person to offer help in the midst of a crisis, I can't begin to say thank you enough for all of the meals, deserts, magazines, books, phone calls - just whatever you felt would make me happy. I miss all of the "grandkids" stories you've told me over the years from their births to present! I know how much love was in your heart, because you always wore it on your sleeve for everyone to see. I will miss your smiling face, the long talks we would have, the coffee we shared and the happiness you brought to me and anyone around you. You filled my life being your friend and now there is and will forever be a place in my broken heart just for you. I love you my 'sis', my neighbor, and most of all - my best friend. I will miss you always and forget you never.
From the depths of my heart,*

“ Cilla & I had so many good times that it’s hard to mention just one. In high school she was the sister I never had and we shared all our dreams with each other. One of the dreams that was most important to both of us was that we be blessed with children & grandchildren to love & spoil. That dream came true. Love you, Cilla.
