“ If this is the Richard that I knew back in the 50's, than I am very saddened by his passing. If he is the same person I knew, Then I recall being in a bitterly cold Dykes stadium in Evanston, Il. on Thanksgiving 1950 watching Illini play Northwestern. We had car trouble 1/2 way to Chicago and had to be rescued by his uncle. But we still had a great time. Wish I could go back in time. Please let me know if this is the friend I knew. My email is dondriverdude4@gmail.com The picture sure looks like Rich. Dave May, are you still out there. We were once the best friends trio.

“ Richard was a wonderful friend. We enjoyed a lot of laughs together. He always had such a positive attitude. I cannot recall him ever speaking negatively against anyone. He was such an encourager to all those around him. His favorite phrase when he would see me was "what's up". I would usually just point my finger toward the sky and say "Jesus is" or sometimes "that way". He would laugh and say "I really don't know why I ask that". My heart will miss him as so many others will also. I sadly say "goodbye my friend, thank you for the blessings of joy you always was willing to freely give." Pastor Ron Potts
