

Mr. William Clay Bomely Sr.

May 9, 1942 - January 10, 2024

William Clay Bomely, Sr., 81, husband of Emily Compton Bomely for 60 years, of Seneca, passed away on Wednesday, January 10, 2024, at his home.

A native of Greenfield, MA, Mr. Bomely was the son of the late William Kenneth and Lillian Clay Bomely. He was a retired residential General Contractor and a United States Air Force Veteran who served in Vietnam. Mr. Bomely was awarded Builder of the Year in 1986 by the Myrtle Beach Chamber of Commerce and was a member of the Lions Club in Pikesville, MD and Socastee, SC. He was also a volunteer for Alaska State Parks, an avid reader, woodworker, and he loved his family dearly. Mr. Bomely was of the Methodist faith.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Bomely is survived by his daughters: CC Bates (Daron) and Sandy Bomely; sister: Carol Donald (Ray); grandchildren: Emilyann Bates and Griff Bates; niece: Janet Cyganek; and nephew: Kenny Donald.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Bomely was preceded in death by a son: William Clay Bomely, Jr.

A memorial service will be held at a later date at Marlow United Methodist Church in Marlow, NH.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Prisma Health Hospice of the Foothills, attn: Foundation Office, 298 Memorial Dr., Seneca, SC 29672.

The family is at their respective homes.

Tribute Wall

LM

“ Bill and I are so sorry to read of your Bill's passing. He built you my favorite home in Keowee Key, and it will be a beautiful and lasting tribute to his memory. We send our most sincere condolences for his loss to you and your family.

Lenore malin - January 22, 2024 at 03:58 PM

EB

Thank you, Lenore.

Emily Bomely - January 27, 2024 at 06:38 AM

JH

Emmy, I often have thought about you & Bill & sorry we lost touch, you guys were my favorite people & the Bommer was my friend, I was so sorry to read about his passing today, I ran across this today & I am deeply sorry for your loss, he was priceless. Your old friend Jim Hynes

Jim Hynes - July 10, 2024 at 09:28 PM

BK

“ Dear Emily, CC, Daron, Emilyann and Griff, Esse accept our heartfelt sympathy upon the passing of Mr. Bomley. May each of you feel the loving support of friends and family as well as the presence of The Holy Spirit who walks beside you. We will lift you up in our prayers, be assured. Much love, Bonnie & Pat Kelley

Bonnie Kelley - January 13, 2024 at 04:10 PM

EB

Thank you for your prayers.

Emily Bomely - January 27, 2024 at 06:39 AM