“ I met William a few years ago when I parked beside his awesome Clemson car in the parking lot of a local laundry. I was walking around touching things when he came out the door of the store and said, "Do I know you?" My response was, "Did I teach you?" He replied, "Naw! I never had a bald-headed lady school teacher!" Then I realized I had left home in a hurry and had forgotten to wear a scarf over my shining bald head (from chemo). We had a good laugh and he told me all about his car and then blew the horn that played "Tiger Rag". He played it loudly so I could record it on my phone. After that I only saw him a few times but will always remember how he brought a good chuckle to me and how he shared everything Clemson with all who saw his car. Sending prayers, love and thanks to the Cleveland family for sharing your Tiger Fan with us.
